Both collections are available from the publisher or from Heritage Creations (www.heritagecreations.com).

Austria-Hungary 1911 covers an important period in European history preceding the two World Wars. Included are 110 full-color maps of Austria and 19 of Hungary showing cities (with many street names included) and maps of the countryside showing principal travel routes. (Information about the scanning resolution and the viewing software also apply to this disk). Published in 2005 by The Gold Bug, PO Box 588, Alamo, CA 94507 (www.goldbug.com).

North American Railroads 1870-1917 includes 144 black and white maps, mostly taken from railroad brochures and timetables between 1870 and 1917. All are scanned in high enough resolution so they can be zoomed for ease of viewing. Also included is an optional viewing program although Windows XP users will find the built-in Windows viewer satisfactory.
